

Refurbishment of Victorian theatre

Project	Refurbishment of listed Normansfield Hospital Theatre
Location	Teddington, Middlesex
Employer	Wilson Connolly Southern Ltd
Contract Administrator	Bourne Wood Partnership Ltd
Project Value	£1.2m

Dating from the 1870s, the Victorian theatre was part of the Normansfield Hospital and had never been modernised and the original features remained untouched.

The brief to Basil Wyatt & Sons Ltd was the restoration of the listed theatre, in particular the original back-stage area and scenery drapes, along with conversion of the basement into a museum and offices. The work was closely monitored by English Heritage.

To bring the building into line with current health and safety requirements, a new staircase tower was added.
